THE MIDDLEBURY CAMPUS

VOL. XII. THE MIDDLEBURY CAMPUS, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26, 1916. No. 4

MIDDLEBURY 8 NEW HAMPSHIRE 4

The Blue and White Disposes of Granite State Team in a Ragged Game.

Middlebury's baseball season opened auspiciously Friday, April 21, when the Varsity defeated the New Hampshire State team 8 to 4. It was a very loosely played game from start to finish, both sides throwing the ball all over the diamond whenever the opportunity gave them the chance. This was to be expected, when one considers the fact that the teams have had very little chance to obtain outdoor practice, or, for that matter, any practice at all.

This year's team promises to develop into as strong an aggregation as the great nine of two years ago. It may not have so capable a pitching staff, but it should more than offset this by ability to wield the willow and run bases.

The game on Friday started off with New Hampshire getting two men on bases with one out, but failing to register a score. Bower, the first man up for Middlebury, smashed a hot one to third and beat it out. After Dewhirst stopped one of Huniston's shoots, Aylward cracked one in the direction of shortshop and the bases were filled. Bresnahan lifted a long fly to center, enabling Bower to tally the first run of the season.

New Hampshire evened up with a score in the next inning. Cofran was safe on Bresnahan's wide throw to first, but was forced at second on Meserve's grounder to Crippen. Russell grounded out, Crippen to Christian, but Irvine lined a clean one to Aylward, who made an excusable muff, which allowed Meserve to score. In her half, Middlebury came back with three runs before New Hampshire was able to retire the side.

Tennis in Women's College.

Plans for the spring tennis in the Women's college are already beginning to develop, and as usual, at this time of the year, all are eager to get into "practice". Coach Holmes has charge of preparing the courts this year, and it is hoped that they will be ready for use within a week. The cup offered by Miss Throop last year has not yet been won by a champion, and so is open to competition. The champion of the Women's college has her name engraved on this cup, and any champion of two years' duration wins the cup for "keeps" so a keen contest is hoped for. The champion each year also wins her letter, and each class champion wins numerals.

The tennis association here expects to challenge the U. V. M. girls, the tournament to be played here in Middlebury some time in May. It is expected that all who are interested in tennis will find ample inducement to work hard, not only for the pleasure of the sport, but for this tournament.

VARSITY TEAM'S FIRST BASE BALL TRIP.

To Meet Norwich at Northfield on Saturday and U. V. M. at Burlington on Monday.

A squad of twelve men with Coach Murch, Manager Cowles, and Assistant Manager Edmunds will leave Middlebury Saturday morning to meet the red and yellow clad warriors of Norwich at Northfield, at baseball. Garrison will probably be in the box for Middlebury with Brickett and Mott doing the receiving. Although Norwich has a first-class team, we may justly expect a victory. Their only game of the season has been with New Hampshire State, a ten inning, 4-4 tie. Middlebury handily captured both games last year and Coach Murch is looking for the team to repeat. The men will return to Middlebury Saturday night to spend Sunday, before leaving to meet U. V. M.

While the varsity is thus engaged, the second team, in charge of Assistant Manager Benedict, will meet St. Peter's A. A. at Rutland. Middlebury will present an exceptionally strong second team line up as follows: Parker, p., Butterfield, c.. Bullis, 1st b., Morton, 2nd b., Sears, s. s., Ahern 3rd b., Jenne l. f., Gorham c. f., Ruether, r. f. St. Peter's always puts out a fast team and with Catozzi in the box our men will have to go the limit to bring home the victory.

But probably the best game will be witnessed Monday at Burlington, the team and students making the trip by special train. On this occasion Crippen will be opposed by Palmer, Vermont's stellar slab artist. U. V. M. has also registered a defeat over New Hampshire State, shutting her out to the tune of 3 to 0. Vermont boasts of an air tight infield and in Hamilton has a remarkably fine catcher, while her outfield is no unknown quantity. While at the present writing the Middlebury lineup is somewhat in doubt, it will include the following men: Bresnahan, 3rd b., Christian or Bullis, 1st b., Crippen or Aylward, p., Mott or Brickett, c., Bower, 2nd b., Dewhirst, ss., Robinson, l. f., Bartlett, c. f., and Pollard or Lamere, r. f.

New Midd. Bulletin.

The new Middlebury College Bulletin, which has just been published by the college authorities, deserves a word of praise and recognition in these columns. It contains cuts of all phases of "Campus Life", and is a book of views which will not only interest alumni and friends of the college, but will be useful also as a means of advertisement.

Few colleges the size of Middlebury can boast of a prettier campus or of handsomer buildings than Middlebury possesses, and in this Bulletin are pictures of both college equipment and of student life, giving to the sub-freshmen and to those unacquainted with it, a fair idea of the splendid college spirit which exists at Middlebury, and which has made it the college which it is today.

ANNUAL CONVENTION COLLEGE REGISTRARS

American Association Holds Seventh Annual Gathering at Columbia.

That the college registrar has become an officer of major importance because of his close touch with students, and because his records furnish data for solving educational problems, was the declaration of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, President of Columbia University, in his opening address before the seventh annual convention of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars at Columbia on April 18-20. Dr. Butler pointed out that the registrar now has functions performed in earlier days by the president of the institution, and that historically and actually this work has value and dignity.

The three days program of the Association included addresses by Clyde Furst, Secretary of the Carnegie Foundation for Teaching; Professors Mann and Reed, experts of the Foundation; L. A. Kalbach, of the United States Bureau of Education; and A. S. Bard of the Inter-Fraternity Council. Secretary Furst discussed entrance certificate blanks and the plans of the Foundation to recommend a standard certificate form for colleges.

At the convention there were 70 representatives from many of the leading colleges and universities of the East, South and Middle West.

Officers for 1916–17 were elected as follows: President, Frank A. Dickey of Columbia University; First Vice-President, Arthur W. Tarbell of Carnegie Institute of Technology; Second Vice-President, W. D. Hiestand of the University of Wisconsin; Secretary and Treasurer, Ezra L. Gillis of the University of Kentucky. President Dickey appointed Raymond Walters of Lehigh University as chairman of the publicity committee.

Middlebury College was represented at the convention by Miss J. H. Bristol.

MIDDLEBURY 21 HOBART COLLEGE 0

New Yorkers Sadly Outclassed. "Zeb", 'Robbie" and "Bullie" Featured for Midd.

The last game of the Varsity, before the Norwich and Vermont contests, was held on Porter Field Thursday afternoon with the Hobart College team. The game was called in the ninth inning, Coach Murch deciding the men had wielded the willow enough for one day. At that time the score was 21 to 0. One redeeming feature of the game was the comeback of "Zeb" Aylward, who pitched the entire game, allowing only three hits and fanning sixteen. If he can keep up this way he should in a large way help solve the pitching problem which has confronted Coach Murch this season.

The Middlebury men batted hard and gathered a total of fifteen hits. Robinson with two homers and Bullis with two doubles featured with the willow.

Score by innings:

Y. W. C. A. Notes.

The regular Y. W. C. A. meeting held on Thursday, April 20th was of more than usual interest, being led jointly by the ex-president, Miss Rowland, '16, the new president, Miss Simms, '17. After the annual reports of the various chairmen of committees, Miss Rowland spoke a few words on leaving her office. She recalled the enthusiasm with which the 1915-16 officers had taken up their work, and hoped that their attempts had furthered the work of the association even in a small degree, and closed with words of encouragement for the incoming officers.

Miss Simms then formally took up her office, expressing in a few well-chosen words, the aims and desires of the new officers in their work for the coming year.

Freshman Athletics.

If you should meet three or four Freshman girls five or six miles from town, don't be alarmed, they aren't running away. They are just taking their regular exercise. Each Freshman girl must walk forty-eight miles before commencement and not less than three miles at a time. The girls have started their walks already, the Government Farm and Belden's being favorite destinations. This is a very excellent plan and one that is thoroughly enjoyed by the girls.

Waubanakee Dance.

The fourth annual dance of the Waubanakee Society was held Saturday evening, April 22, in McCullough Gymnasium. Music was furnished by Vittum's orchestra and about thirty couples attended. The chaperones were Professor and Mrs. Swett and Professor and Mrs. Bonney.

EDITORIAL.

The Campus Finances.

The attention of the alumni and undergraduates is called to the matter of financial support of the college paper, and the urgent necessity of paying up their subscriptions if the paper is to continue on its present footing or make any pretense toward improvement. The present board undertook the task of publishing the paper, and assumed, in so doing, the matter of liquidating a sizeable debt carried over from previous years. With the falling off in number of renewals and failure of many to pay up their subscriptions the total indebtedness has been increased rather than diminished. The business department is therefore face to face with the situation of either raising more funds or cutting down in some way the expenses of publication, either by limiting the size of paper, or number of issues, or by both.

To adopt the latter method would obviously be a step backward, therefore a campaign to raise the necessary funds has been determined upon. The total amount due on outstanding unpaid subscriptions, if paid up would more than offset the present deficit. and the business managers urgently request that all alumni who have neglected to mail their checks kindly do it at their earliest convenience.

The board also desires to call the attention of the student body to its obvious duty in connection with the paper. At the present time the undergraduate subscriptions in the men's college number 65, of which 25 have paid up; while the number in the women's college is 83 of which 56 have paid up. A total of 148 subscriptions, 81 of which are paid up in a student body of 327 is proof positive that the paper is not getting the undergraduate support that it should. As things stand at present, where one student pays for, and receives the paper, about a dozen exercise the privilege of reading it. Such a condition of affairs can hardly be called satisfactory from a financial standpoint, nor from the viewpoint of college spirit.

The paper is purely a student venture, conducted for the best interests of the undergraduate body, of the alumni, and of the college itself. Its success or failure in accomplishing what is expected of it must depend, in a large measure, upon the element of co-operation of all concerned, but more particularly, upon that of the students themselves. We cannot expect loyal alumni to generously support any student effort in which the students themselves have little more than passing interest. The Campus is inclined to the belief that most of the students are interested and will do their part when the matter is brought to their attention. Also that most of the alumni are just as keenly interested in the doings of the student body and that they value the paper as a medium of keeping in touch with their alma mater. In both cases the element of unintentional neglect may be largely responsible for laxity and failure to pay up.

The Campus in its last issue sent out notices to all of the subscribers regarding renewals and we respectfully urge those who have overlooked it, to give the matter their attention. The business department will likewise give the student body a chance to lend their support to a vigorous campaign that will be pushed during the coming week. Representatives of the board will interview every student in college and those who have not heretofore subscribed will be expected to sign up.

The board hopes that both alumni and undergraduates will get back of this movement and help put the Campus on a substantial financial basis.

Keep Off the Grass!

The CAMPUS makes its annual suggestion that the student body stick to the walks and give the grass on the campus a chance to get started. Our suggestion applies in particular to the short cut to the chemistry building. A little forethought on the part of all in starting for classes a minute earlier will make unnecessary the indiscriminate cutting of paths and prevent the barren stretches that later in the spring are so displeasing to the eye. It may be a little longer to walk around, but in the end, won't it pay?

The Campus Office.

At the very beginning of the college year, the Campus Board secured the use of two rooms in the North Starr Hall for an office. The purpose was to have some convenient place where the members of the board could drop in to do their writing, where the business department of the paper could do its work in an organized manner, and where the exchanges could be kept on file and be easily accessible to the members of the board. This is just what the Campus needs to do efficient work and give the different departments a chance to work well by themselves and in co-operation with the other departments.

Just at present this much-needed Campus office is being used as a dormitory for visiting baseball teams. To this the board can certainly raise no objections, as it is rather foolish for the rooms to remain idle.

But the Campus feels the need of a definite place for its headquarters very keenly, but it cannot use the office in its present condition. There is absolutely no equipment for doing the required work in the rooms, and certainly the Campus in its present financial embarrassment cannot furnish the required fittings, such as desks, chairs and tables. We wonder if the added efficiency that an office would lend to the working of the board would n t give satisfactory results enough to counteract any sacrifice that might be made to have the office furnished and made ready for use. We are sure that it would.

Regarding Commencement.

Visitors at Commencement three years ago and members of the classes graduating since then will remember a very pretty exercise which took place on the Women's Campus at sunset at the close of a showery day.

With the idea of making Pearsons Hall less like a bare monument, each class planted one tree on the lawn. The planting was accompanied with songs and dances, the girls wearing the costumes of the May Fete given that year.

The scene was effective, the dances beautiful under Miss Crawford's able direction but the poetic planting could not supply the trees with the necessary something which seems to have been lacking. The snows and winds for which the hill is famous did their damaging work and one by one the trees have died.

Only one tree, small but sturdy remains. Winds, snows, and droughts have not affected it and in time it will grow to be a monument to the memorable class that planted it.

This is the 1916 tree.

Spring.

At last Spring is here! It has been long in coming and is probably for that reason more appreciated. It promises to be a beautiful season and a successful one in every respect for the College. As the Senior looks out over the green campus again, he thinks back to his first Spring in Middlebury and realizes that each season has been better than the preceding. The campus has been enlarged and improved, the equipment increased and the college activities and interests broadened. The student body has grown and the name of Middlebury spread far beyond its previous limits.

We wonder if the presence during this season of so many guests is an indication that they too feel the charms of Middlebury. We are glad to see these new comers among us and always rejoice when the familiar faces of the alumni appear. We wish every visitor to feel that he is not merely the guest of his particular friends, but is also warmly welcomed by the College.

Try-out for the Chimes.

The town has been entertained (?) for the past few weeks by the attempts of several members of our college to qualify for the position of chimer and two assistants. We feel that it will be a relief to all parties concerned, as well as to the contestants themselves, to announce that the final tryout will be held Saturday afternoon.

COMMUNICATIONS

Editor Campus:

Would we have been proud to have had prospective students witness the spirit at our first base ball game of the season? Would we have been even willing to have had them see the poor support which we gave our team? There ought not to be a man in college who does not feel dissatisfied! What has become of that "New Midd. Spirit" which left every man hoarse after each football game last fall? It certainly was dormant at last Friday's game; — gone but not forgotten. Certainly that pep and enthusiasm still slumbers in each one of us! Awaken it must, and assert itself before we enter Junior Week, when our visitors will expect to be shown that aside from having a first class base ball team we have a student body that stands back of, and supports our men as they ought to be supported.

A smoker was scheduled for last Thursday evening. As all know, no such meeting was held. But why? The only reason heard by the student body was that no members of the faculty would consent to speak on that occassion. Is it possible out of twenty-five or more possibilities on the faculty that all had "previous engagements" or was it that the inclination was lacking? We would like to believe the former was the reason, but candidly just what is the probability of such being the case? If so, did not someone show neglect or lack of foresight in not starting arrangements earlier. Even if that be the situation let it not be said that Middlebury College gives up a mass meeting for lack of speakers! Will we not have to acknowledge ourselves a pretty poor lot if the student body cannot hold a mass meeting itself! There certainly ought not to be any reason why the students themselves could not conduct a mass meeting and arouse the same enthusiasm that was seen at the "smokers" last fall.

But to come back to our present situation,—we have three varsity contests before us Junior Week. Are we going down to the field and mock our men, or are we going to properly support them? Why not have a genuine mass meeting next Tuesday evening! It would seem that the only way to meet the situation would be to come together, discuss it freely, and then decide what our attitude will be during Junior Week. There is only one possibility as to our action. We must awaken and proclaim our presence! Therefore, why not have a mass meeting next Tuesday evening to practice cheers, with an upper-class man as cheer-leader, and then decide whether the students should sit in a body in the grandstand, or whether they shall be scattered in grandstand and bleachers, as was the case last Saturday. Are we content with conditions as they existed at our first home game or shall we come together and prepare to redeem ourselves? "JUNIOR."

when Mott beat out a roller to short, stole second, and came home on Christian's hit to right.

New Hampshire made the game a little more interesting by scoring three runs in the sixth by means of a couple of solid hits and a few errors contributed by Middlebury.

In the seventh, Christian led off with a bunt, and took second on Huniston's wild throw to first. Crippen advanced him to third with another bunt, and he came home on Bower's sacrifice fly to center. Two more scores in the eighth brought Midd's total up to eight. In this inning, after Reuther had fanned, Bresnahan waited out four bad ones. Robinson connected with a fast one to the extent of two bases, scoring Tommy. On a wild throw to catch him napping, Robby hurried home with the final tally.

The Junior Play.

The Junior Play, to be given Saturday evening May 6, promises to be a very fitting end to the interesting program of junior week. The play entitled, "Mary Goes First", deals with life in an English town. The action never lags and will surely hold the interest of the audienee throughout. The cast is admirably adapted to the parts in every case. Miss Ball. the leading lady, will arouse the intense interest of all by her aspirations and schemes. Miss Linnell is playing her part to perfection. The charming manner of Miss Richards and the attempts of Miss Leach to settle matters peacefully will cause both to be admired. Mr. Reynolds cannot fail to call forth the laughter of the house by his clever adaptation to his part. Mr. Mason will also be a source of much amusement. Mr. Lee, in his part as a lawyer, will win the approval of all. In fact, every character is sure to bring success upon the Junior Class. Get your tickets and be convinced of this fact!

ON TO BURLINGTON

Everybody Out for the Special. Support Tag Day and Take the Band Along. Show Your Junior Week Spirit!

A special train will leave Middlebury at 1.15 Monday for Burlington, provided Manager Cowles raises the necessary $105 guarantee by Saturday night. Returning, the special will lerve Burlington at a quarter of seven. The college has granted a half holiday for the occasion. The remarkably low rate of $1.05 has been secured for the round trip. Supreme efforts are being made to have as many students as possible make the trip. There will be a "Tag Day" Saturday to help pay the expenses of the band, and application has been made for complimentary admission tickets for the band from the U. V. M. management. Middlebury rallied splendidly to the support of her team on this occasion last year, and there ought to be no reason why the special should not be crowded next Monday.

The guarantee means that one hundred students will have to purchase tickets before Saturday to secure the special train. At their first home game the U. V. M. students marched onto the field in a body, led by their band At their second game Middlebury will also march onto Centennial field, led by a band that, if we may judge from last year, will outclass that of our opponents. Manager Cowles will have his corps of ticket sellers at work the last of the week, and Middlebury will again show the spirit that made the Norwich trip possible last fall.

On to Burlington!

BASEBALL UNDER WAY.

Prospects Bright for a Good Team

For the past three weeks the baseball candidates have been daily practicing to get in shape for the hard schedule that confronts them. The men have been greatly handicapped by the recent streak of bad weather but they have been able to warm up at least in the Gymnasium.

The prospects for an excellent team are indeed bright, as nearly all of last year's nine are back and there seems to be some excellent material in the freshman class. The biggest problem Coach Murch has to solve is the battery. Haskins and MacLaughlin have graduated, so Aylward and Crippen are the only veteran pitchers in college yet, Aylward's excellent work in the Hobart game indicates a return to his old time form. Crippen pitched some good games last year, and with his ex perience to fall back on should be able to hold his own against any twirler Middlebury is liable to come in contact with. Garrison, who showed all kinds of stuff two years ago, is already shooting them across in mid-season form and should give a good account of himself in the coming games. Brewster and Ruether are also trying out in the box.

Behind the bat, Mott, Butterfield, and Brickett are taking care of everything that crosses the rubber. Each of the two former had considerable experience last year, and so should be able to take care of the receiving end in a satisfactory way.

Of last year's infield, Christian, Pollard, Dewhirst, Sears, and Bresnahan are out for the team, while some of the the new men are showing up exceptionally well and should make the veterans extend themselves to hold their places. Among these latter are Bower, Ahern, Bullis, Jenne, and Morton.

Robinson, Lamere, and Bartlett, last year's outfield, should again be able to hold their places, as they are all good fielders and perhaps the heaviest stickers on the team.

Coach Murch has been placing special emphasis on batting and from the way the men are hitting the horsehide, in practice, it looks as if Middlebury would have a hard hitting aggregation. Manager Cowles has arranged the hardest schedule in the history of Middlebury baseball and if the pitching problem is solved the team should make an enviable record.

NEW EDITION GENERAL CATALOGUE

1915 Volume Being Compiled by Asst. Dean Wiley.

The compilation of another edition of the General Catalogue has been under way for some time. The late Dean Howard, at the time of his death, was engaged in the work of compiling what would have been the 1910 edition, but the work was not completed, and there has been nothing of the kind published since the General Catalogue of 1900. Some record of this kind is greatly needed, as there are about 2400 Middlebury students who were either living at the time the last catalogue was published and whose records were necessarily incomplete, or who have since attended the college.

The new edition will have more complete records of the non-graduates than former ones have contained. The book will be bound in cloth and will sell for $2.00. It is expected that the work will be completed some time during the present year.

In connection with the work of collecting data for the general catalogue, Assistant Dean Wiley is making a permanent file of alumni information. The college has purchased filing cabinets for the purpose, and for every alumnus and former student a folder is provided in which letters, newspaper clippings, etc., may be preserved. Alumni are urged to send in any items of interest concerning themselves or friends who have attended Middlebury. A little cooperation of this sort should, in a few years, make the records invaluable.

Tennis Outlook.

The tennis outlook for the spring season of 1916 is extremely good. Plans are under way for a series of intercollegiate tennis matches. Manager Vaughn is working to arrange for sets with U. V. M., and also with Clarkson Tech.

Coach Bonney has been working with candidates for the team, since the first part of the semester, in the gymnasium. Those trying out for the team at present are Vaughn, '17, Peabody, Jones and Towers, '19.

The condition of the courts at present is excellent considering the adverse weather. Two of the three courts are in fine shape and the third will be ready within a few days. Much credit is due Curran, '19, for his excellent work upon them.

JUNIORS WIN INTER-CLASS MEET.

Several Records Go By the Board—New Men Show Up Well.

The Juniors came through with the expected victory in the Inter-class Track Meet, Tuesday, April 25. It was by far the best inter-class meet in the history of the college, when it is considered that four records went by the board. The old marks were lowered in the mile and two mile by Jones, '19; in the broad jump by Hollister, '17; in the discus by Brewster, '18; and Lee, '17, virtually established a new record in the pole vault when he cleared the bar at 10 feet 3 inches on his fourth attempt.

Of the new men Jones, Darby, and Tatro showed up best, although there are a number of other freshmen who should capture points in the coming meets. The veterans came up to expectations in the events they entered, the results of good training and coaching, and making good use of the experience gained in past meets.

The team promises to be well balanced in practically all of the events, although more men are needed in the middle distance runs and some of the weight events.

The summary of the events follows:

100 yard dash: Bresnahan, '17, first; Lee, '17, second; Darby, '19, third. Time, 10 4-5 seconds.

One mile run: Jones, '19, first; Cullen, '19, second; Aldrich, '19, third. Time, 4 minutes, 43 seconds.

220 yard hurdles: Bresnahan, '17, first; Hard, '17, second; Hubbard, '17, third. Time, 29 4-5 seconds.

440 yard dash: Hollister, '17, first; Peabody, '19, second; Drew, '18, third. Time, 55 seconds.

120 yard high hurdles: Lee, '17, first; Bresnahan, '17, second; Hubbard, '17, third. Time, 17 1-5 seconds.

880 yard dash: Hollister, '17, first; Ober, '18, second; Aldrich, '19, third. Time, 2 minutes, 25 seconds.

220 yard dash: Darby, '19, first; Stearns, '18, second; Hard, '17, third. Time, 23 2-5 seconds.

Two mile run: Jones, '19, first; Cullen, '19, second; Mitchell, '17, third. Time, 10 minutes, 20 4-5 seconds.

High jump: Tatro, '19, first; Paulsen, '16, second; Lee, '17, third. Height, 5 feet, 2 inches.

16 lb. shot: Tatro, '19, first; Brewster, '18, second; Hard, '17, third. Distance, 32 feet, 5 inches.

Discus throw: Brewster, '18, first; Tatro, '19, second; Hard, '17, and Dake, '18, tied for third. Distance, 98 feet, 2 inches. Brewster threw 104 feet in trial throw.

Pole vault: Lee, '17, first; Paulsen, '16, second; Tatro, '19, third. Height, 9 feet, 6 inches.

Hammer throw: Condit, '16, first; Horsford, '17, second; Canty, '19, third Distance, 108 feet, 10 inches.

ALBANY TEACHERS AGENCY

Incorporated

Supplies Schools of All Grades with Competent Teachers
Assists Teachers in Obtaining Positions

We receive calls for wide-awake and progressive teachers from every State in the Union, and we want more such teachers upon our lists.

We believe no agency in the country has done more for its clients or secured positions for a larger proportion of them. For several years we have had more positions than candidates, and we can certainly be of service to college graduates who wish to teach and WHO ARE QUALIFIED TO DO GOOD WORK.

Miss Mildred Hull of Berlin, N. Y., is the guest of Miss Rowland. Miss Hull was here in the summer school last year.

Miss Mary Holmes, '16, has been ill with tonsilitis. Her mother is here caring for her.

The fortunate people who have been to Lake Dunmore this last week have brought back beautiful specimens of arbutus.

'15. J. Mott Hoyt was a recent visitor in town. Mr. Hoyt is teaching at North Bangor, N. Y., and spent his spring vacation here.

Challenge.

The Castle Walkers, having won the World's Championships in all the indoor winter sports, hereby challenge any eating-house team to a series of games in any of the following sports: baseball, track, tennis or quoits. The Castleites have just returned from an extensive southern trip, including Salisbury and Bristol, and have easily vanquished all comers, in their countless attempts to wrest the laurels from this stellar aggregation of world and carpet beaters.

We do not demand that our opponents shall first get a reputation, as we realize that they would soon lose it after meeting us; and we do not draw the professional or color line, as is so often the case with would-be champs. We do, however, demand that all contests shall be played under the Marquis de Cranberry rules. All communications will be secretly considered, in the order of their arrival, by Managers Warner and Towne and Treasurer Chapman.

Apply early and avoid the slaughter!

On Wednesday afternoon a joint meeting of the old and new cabinets of the Y. W. C. A. was held in Pearsons Hall. Instructions for the ensuing year were given, followed by a very pleasant social time.

Death of William Jackson.

Not only the present student body of the college, but the alumni for many years, grieve to hear of the death of William Jackson at his home on South street, April 26. His death was the result of an attack of pneumonia. Mr. Jackson has for many years been Middlebury's only photographer. All who knew him will miss his cheery greeting and the happy word he had for all. As a college, we are greatly indebted to Mr. Jackson for the great amount of excellent work he has done for us, especially in taking the many pictures for our college annual. A great number of the individual pictures have been the result of his work, and the group pictures are his almost entirely. On many other occasions has Mr. Jackson served us faithfully, as individuals or as a body. Surely our loss is great.
